本题你将听到一个语篇,请根据所听内容和所提出的五个问题,从每小题所给的A、B、C三个选项中,选出一个最佳选项,并在答题卡上将该项涂黑。读两遍。

One midnight, a little girl woke up. She got down from her bed to go to the bathroom. When she walked to the bedroom door and opened it, she looked outside and walked back. It was so dark and she was scared.

Her mother told the girl not to be afraid and to take courage. The girl asked her mother what courage is and ran to her mother's bed. Her mother answered that courage is a brave breath. Then the girl asked whether her mother had courage. Her mother said yes. Then the girl held out her hands and said, "Mom, please blow some of your brave breaths to me." Her mother smiled and then blew out a breath into the girl's little cold hands. After that, the little girl held her hands nervously, afraid that the "breath of courage" would run away. Then she walked out of her bedroom towards the bathroom with nothing to fear.

After she went out of the bathroom, she came to her mother excitedly. "I'm not afraid of the darkness any more, mom." Her mother smiled again, and told the girl that she was proud of her daughter.

In fact, what we are afraid of mostly is nothing but the fear in our minds. Who we should fight against is nobody but ourselves.

四、听力填空

本题你将听到一个语篇,请根据所听内容,完成下面的句子,并将获取的信息写在答题卡相应的位置上。每空一词。读两遍。

Did you know that most of the energy we use comes from the sun? For example, the sun helps plants to grow. Plants that grew millions of years ago turned into coal, oil, and natural gas. We call these fossil fuels. However, fossil fuels cause pollution. This is bad for the Earth. So, scientists want people to use green energy.

Why is green energy important? First, it is clean. It doesn't hurt the Earth. Next, it won't run out because it is renewable. Green energy gives us almost 25% of the electricity we use today.

What are the main sources of green energy? First of all, water power uses moving water in rivers and dams. Moving water runs fast to produce energy. Water power makes 16.6% of the electricity we use. Wind power comes to the second. People used wind power many years ago and it makes 4% of the electricity we use. As for solar power, it comes from sunlight. The sun shines on solar panels, and the electricity is made. Solar power is as cheap as some fossil fuels now. It makes 1.5% of the electricity we use.

Some day, green energy could make 100% of the electricity we use. That's good news for the Earth!
